MT. STERLING, KENTUCKY, WEDNESDAY, SEPTEMBER 7, 1910.

NUMBER 8

POSTMASTERS

Will Meet in Louisville September 13th, 14th and 15th.

It has been decided by the Postmasters' Association, which includes Presidential offices, and the State League of Postmasters of Third and Fourth class offices, to hold a joint meeting this year in Louisville, September 14th and 15th. The League will meet at 2 o'clock p. m. on the 13th for the purpose of transacting such business as pertains to League affairs only.

On the 14th and 15th the Association and League will hold a joint meeting for the purpose of discussing postal affairs.

There will be several representatives of the Post-office Department present to give instructions. The new Money Order and Registry System will be fully explained. Every Postmaster should attend, as they will learn more than they would in years at home, and many things they never would learn otherwise.

New Store in Town.

The Blue Grass Oil Painting and Frame Co. have leased the store room of Mrs. Barnes on Broadway, formerly occupied by T. P. Martin & Co. They will make a specialty of fine enlarged portraits, oil paintings, frames and mirrors. This is the only store of its kind in Kentucky, and it is with pleasure that we recommend it to the good people of our section. The opening date will be announced next week.

The new concern will be under the splendid management of Mr. C. Julian Stafford, who has been in our city for several months and has proved himself a gentleman in every respect. We wish the new enterprise abundant success.

House Party.

Mr. and Mrs. George Hamilton will entertain a very charming house party from Olympian Springs from Saturday until Monday of this week at their country home. Mr. and Mrs. Hamilton have just returned from a pleasant stay at the Springs.

Their guests for the house party will be, Dr. and Mrs. J. A. McLeay of Atlanta, Ga.; Mr. and Mrs. Karl Jungbluth, of Louisville; Mrs. Lawrence Fitzburgh, of Lexington, Mr. and Mrs. Sherman Goodpaster, of Owingsville.

Heavy Rains.

The heavy rains in this county for the past several days have caused considerable damage to vegetables, corn and tobacco. Land was washed badly in some parts of the county.

See the new Stein-Bloch and Hamburger fall suits at Walsh Bros.

Labor Day.

Monday was Labor Day and was observed in our city only by the postoffice and banks.

SWELL AFFAIR

Was The Masquerade Dance Given By Mr. and Mrs. Prewitt in Honor of Miss Evans.

The Masquerade Dance given by Mr. and Mrs. Marcus Prewitt last Wednesday evening at their beautiful country residence on the Winchester pike, in honor of their charming niece, Miss Florence Ray Evans, was decidedly one of the most enjoyable events of the summer season.

The floors were canvassed, and the light fantastic was much enjoyed in. The costumes were extremely odd and a great deal of merriment resulted from some of the young folks not being able to recognize some of their best and most intimate friends.

On the east side of the house was a fortune teller's tent, where Miss Evans disguised as a fortune teller, told the fortunes of many in an experienced manner.

Delicious refreshments were served during the evening, and the fleeting hours soon passed, when with reluctance, the guests bid Miss Evans Good-night, and pronounced her dance one of the most thoroughly enjoyable affairs they ever attended.

There were a number of out-of-town guests present from Winchester, Sharpshooter and North Middletown. A local orchestra furnished the music.

New Store For Ladies.

On Saturday, Sept. 17, Messrs. Aronson & Gordon will open a first-class store on Main St., next door to the Mt. Sterling National Bank. They will carry a complete line of ladies' wearing apparel, millinery, druggists, rugs and a full line of household sundries.

It is with pleasure that we welcome this firm to our city, and it affords us pleasure in recommending them to the good people of Mt. Sterling and surrounding country.

Elizabeth Lockridge Entertains.

Miss Elizabeth Lockridge was the charming hostess on Saturday of an elaborate course dinner at her beautiful suburban home. Covers were laid for nine. The following attractive girls were present: Misses Vitula Kinsolving, Hazel Grubbs, Catherine Greene, Mary Vansant Tabb, Mildred Robinson, Martha Simlar, Elizabeth Perry and Lucy Clay Woodford.

Buys Property.

J. Q. Stephens has bought of E. J. Fitch his property on Richmond avenue and gets possession October 1st.

Two Montgomery County Farms Sell For Good Prices.

Albert W. Stofer has sold his bluegrass farm containing about 160 acres, lying about 51 miles from this city on the cross pike going from the Winchester to the Grassy Lick pike, to Richard Connor, of Winchester, for $138 per acre. The farm is known as the old Fox home and has on it the finest brick farm residence in this county. Mr. Stofer will probably move to this city to reside and later may locate in Canada.

Peter R. Cockrell has purchased from Mrs. Bert Wyatt her one-third interest in about 76 acres of land, improved, on the Levee and Camargo cross pike, at a private price. Possession will be given on March 1, 1911.

Death of Lucile Barrow.

Little Lucile, the ten-year-old daughter of Mrs. Anna Barrow, died Tuesday morning, August 30, 1910, at seven o'clock, at the residence on Holt avenue, this city.

Short services, conducted by Rev. E. E. Dawson, were held at the residence at 3:30 o'clock Wednesday afternoon and burial in Macphelah cemetery.

The child had been a sufferer since a baby, and to the bereaved ones we extend deepest sympathy.

Mr. Winn's Dance.

Mr. Richard Prewitt Winn entertained last Thursday evening at the elegant home of his parents on Maysville street with a delightful dance in honor of his cousin, Miss Dorothy Deering, of Cleveland, Ohio. There was a large number of young folks present and one of the best times of the season was enjoyed. A delicious luncheon was served during the evening.

Gun Club.

The newly organized gun club gave their first shoot last Friday. There were twenty-five members present and the afternoon was thoroughly enjoyed. The lowest score was 2 out of 25 and the highest 19. Harry Howell was elected president and G. B. Senff, secretary and treasurer. The next shoot will be held Friday afternoon. Everybody invited.

"Peanut" Shot.

Nally Scott, better known as "Peanut," the water boy on the sewer construction works, accidentally shot himself with a revolver through the hand. He was sent to Cleveland, Ohio, where he is reported to be doing nicely.

Strawberries in September.

J. W. Heath, who lives near Ewington, this county, has been picking strawberries for the last three or four weeks. They are of the Haviland and Bubach variety and this is the second crop for them this season.

Gun Explodes.

While out hunting doves last week the right barrel of a shotgun exploded when Robert Nelson shot at a dove. One of his hands was slightly injured.

Collar Bone Broken.

Ewing Flynn, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Ewing A. Flynn, fell from a chair Saturday afternoon and broke his collar bone. He is doing nicely.

Impromptu Dance.

There will be an impromptu dance at McKee's Hall Friday evening, Sept. 9. A Lexington orchestra will furnish the music.

House For Rent.

Apply to Mrs. Mary D. Jones.

Circuit Court Convenes.

The September term of the Montgomery Circuit Court convened here Monday with Judge Allie W. Young on the bench and Commonwealth's Attorney W. B. White and County Attorney Earl W. Senff at their post on duty. The grand jury was empaneled and Judge Young administered a strong charge to it, touching all points of law-breaking and calling their attention to the infractions of the law which occur most frequently in our county.

The following gentlemen compose the grand and petty juries:

GRAND JURY.

O. M. Jones, Henry Parrish, W. S. Smathers, John Robinson, J. P. Sullivan, Ewing Flynn, A. F. Wyatt, E. V. Nelson, O. W. McCormick, Joe Turley, Martin Ramey, J. W. Mason, Foreman.

PETTY JURY.

Henry Maher, Steve Pieratt, John Stoffer, John M. Barnes, Roger D. Barnes, J. H. Henry, T. N. Perry, Clifton Daniel, Ernest Gillespie, M. K. Tapp, Wm. S. Howell, A. C. Bogie, A. J. Gatewood, W. W. Eubank, W. H. Wyatt, Robt. Settles, V. A. Reis, Sam Tarley, R. L. Whitsitt, W. H. Ramsey, Nick Hadden, Jr., J. R. Peed, T. J. Douglas, J. Clay Cooper.

A Good Position

can be had by ambitious young men and ladies in the field of "Wireless" or Railway telegraphy. Since the short law became effective, and since the Wireless companies are establishing stations throughout the country there is a great shortage of telegraphers. Positions pay beginners from $70 to $90 per month, with good chance of advancement. The National Telegraph Institute operates six official institutes in America, under supervision of R. R. and Wireless Officials and places all graduates into positions. It will pay you to write them for full details at Cincinnati, O., or Philadelphia, Pa.

Pupils of Mt. Sterling Collegiate Institute.

Mt. Sterling Collegiate Institute will open Monday, September 12. The opening exercises will be held at 9:30 o'clock. All pupils are urged to be present at the opening and all friends and patrons of the Institute are cordially requested to be present and visit the school.

A returned Missionary from India, will lecture at the Presbyterian Church Sunday night at 7:30 everybody invited.

SPLENDID SCHOOL.

Mt. Sterling Collegiate Institute to Open Its Doors Monday to a Large Number of Pupils.

The people of Montgomery and adjoining counties are showing their appreciation of Prof. R. I. Cobb's splendid Institution, the Mt. Sterling Collegiate Institute, by sending their children to this excellent school and at this the beginning of a new term, the school will start with a larger enrollment than ever before.

Prof. Cobb has given the selection of the courses and the teachers of the various branches much thought and study and only thoroughly experienced, competent teachers are employed, and he is certainly to be congratulated upon his wise selections.

A new feature of the school is the Business College Department under the able management of Prof. W. H. Haddock, who has had many years of experience in some of the leading Colleges of the South and is an expert in his line.

We think Mt. Sterling and Montgomery County should be proud of this excellent institution and should give it their patronage.

Bath County Man Attempts Suicide.

Emanuel Carpenter, of Bath county, aged about 66 years, becoming despondent, sought to end his life by taking a large quantity of morphine. Prompt work of the doctors probably saved his life, but he is still in a critical condition.

AMUSEMENTS.

BLACK PATRI.

The Black Patti Musical Comedy Co., a big colored company presenting the latest musical hit, "A Trip to Africa," are said to be all clever actors, fun-makers, good singers and dancers, and on Wednesday, September 7th, will appear at Tabb Opera House. From information received from our exchange, our theatre-going people can rely on witnessing a bright, sparkling musical show, containing the best singing and many amusing situations, devoid of the slightest trace of anything to offend. It is undoubtedly a meritorious attraction and should be liberally patronized.

DANIEL BOONE ON THE TRAIL.

Manager Robert H. Harris seems to have struck the proper chord in choosing for this season's offering a drama that is new to the public and yet this has its theme, etc., one of the greatest and first-known men, Daniel Boone. Daniel on the Trail is one of these thrilling romantic stories that holds its listener from the first to the fall of the last act and Boone's appeal to the Shawnees and his campaign against them are but a few of the many historical events that take place in this drama and which were taken from the man's life.

Don't forget the date, Thursday night, September 8th, Tabb Opera House.

COBBIN'S GREATER MINSTRELS.

One of the best comedians and popular funny men ever seen in Mt. Sterling is Ed C. Hayes, just re-engaged from vaudeville with Coburn's Greater Minstrels.

"Ed's" fun is as clean and contagious as the big fellow is popular, and he requires no introduction to lovers of good old-time minstrelsy. His droll sayings and funny antics keep the audience busy and in uproar from the time he makes his entry. Mr. Hayes broke the house record at Mr. Sterling in vaudeville. You all know him. Tabb Opera House next Monday, September 12th.

Go To Reno.

William D. Bishop, grandson of the founder of the New Haven railroad and formerly its secretary and treasurer, has announced his intention of marrying again if he can induce his present wife to go to Reno and get a divorce. Mrs. Bishop was Miss Susan Blackburn, of Kentucky.

DEMOCRATIC VICTORY.

Col. Richard Bright, Former Sergeant-at-Arms of Senate, Says Sign Is Right.

Richard Bright, of Indiana and Washington veteran Democrat and who was for years sergeant-at-arms of the Senate, has just arrived here from a trip across the continent. He is enthusiastic over the outlook for the Democrats.

"Wherever I went," said Col. Bright, among themselves, while the Democrats were united, aggressive and confident of the results in the Congressional elections, Senator Bailey correctly analyzed the political situation when he told Senator Beveridge the member of an army engaged in fighting one another could not successfully withstand the attack of the enemy.

Out West the Insurgents and the Regulars are going at one another's throats. Conversation is quite an issue out there and sentiment is not so strong for Gifford Pinchot as some people imagine. "Do I think the Democrats will carry the house? There never was anything more certain politically. And I want to record the prediction that the majority of the members of the Sixty-second Congress, who are elected north of the Mason and Dixon line, will be Democrats. The tide is running strongly toward Democracy this year."

Promissory John.

Promissory John has done and done it again. This time its over the appointment of a successor to the postmaster at Clay City. Out of about a dozen applicants Langley has promised his inroad to about twelve. The middle has reached a point where something has to be done; in other words, they are trying to force Langley's hand, and for the reason that the eleven unsuccessful fellows might not understand this promising business, it seems that the resignation of Miss Bertha Maple the present incumbent, is being held up at Washington at the instance of Langley till after the election.—Irvine Herald.

WILL NOT PRODUCE RAIN

Chief of Weather Bureau Declares in Opinion That Man Cannot Produce Showers At All.

Willis L. Moore, chief of the Weather Bureau, is more than skeptical of the power of explosives to cause rain.

Declaring that efforts to produce rain by bombarding the skies would encourage charlatans and would be denounced by all eminent physicists and scientists, Mr. Moore has submitted an opinion to adjutant Ainsworth regarding the forest fire situation in Idaho and Montana.

He says extensive experiments conducted by the Department of Agriculture have conclusively demonstrated that rainfall cannot be created by explosives. Rain is produced only by a marked increase in the vapor contents of the air or by a decided lowering of the temperature, and man cannot operate on a scale to stimulate these conditions.

Maj. General Leonard Wood's action in refusing the request of Senator Piles and Representative Humphreys, of Washington, to have the 141 guns at Puget Sound fired in the hope of producing rain has been approved by the President. A dispatch to this effect was received from Mr. Taft by Gen. Wood.

Novelty Wins $34,000 Futurity From Bashti.

Novelty, the favorite at 9 to 5, won the $34,000 futurity amid the rousing cheers of 20,000 people at Saratoga, N. Y., on Aug. 31. Bashti, the $30,000 filly, was second with Love Not who ran away half a mile before the race, third.

The field was held twelve minutes at the post by Love Not running away. They were sent away to a good start with Novelty showing the way, but in the first furlong Love Not rushed into a big lead and led to well into the stretch, when Shilling on Novelty put him under a drive and, catching her at the furlong pole, won going away by a length from Bashti. The latter was off poorly but closed a big gap.

Nervous

"I was very nervous," writes Mrs. Mollie Mirse, of Carrsville, Ky., "had palpitation of the heart, and was irregular."

"On the advice of Mrs. Hattie Cain I took 2 bottles of Cardui and it did me more good than any medicine I ever took."

"I am 44 years old and the change has not left me, but I am lots better since taking Cardui."

Take CARDUI

The Woman's Tonic

Cardui is advertised and sold by its loving friends. The lady who advised Mrs. Mirse to take Cardui, had herself been cured of serious female trouble, by Cardui, so she knew what Cardui would do.

If Cardui cured Mrs. Cain and Mrs. Mirse, it surely will cure you too. Won't you try it? Please do.

To Merchants.

People are willing to pay fair prices for goods well advertised. They think such goods are worth the price charged.

Winners of close races are those who hold on a little longer than they think they can. Quitters always come in at the tail end. When your competitor cuts down his advertising space increase the size of yours.

In what year was President McKinley shot? If you can't remember that, how do you expect people in your city to remember that you sell a certain line of goods which you advertised once or twice several years ago?

It never pays to sell a man what he does not want. The next time he will be liable to go to some other store to get what he does want. Favors are soon forgotten, but little impressions make lasting impressions on most men's minds. Your competitor can not harm you—unless you let him. As much energy as you spend in watching his business—just so much the less will you have for pushing your own. Your hardest competitor is, in a sense of the word, your best friend. He is helping to draw the public's attention to the sort of goods you are trying to sell. If you play your own game in your own way, you will have about as many a little bunch of work as you can manage.—Brains.

Colorado E. Breaks Two World Records.

Colorado E., the bay stallion owned by George H. Estabrook, of Denver, Col., smashed the world's record for three-year-old trotters at the Grand Circuit meeting at Readville, Mass., on Aug. 31, by lowering the time of 2:06.3 made by General Watts at Lexington, Ky., in 1907, to 2:06.1.

By winning the second heat of the American Horse Breeder's Futurity in 2:07.3 he also made a new world's record for two consecutive heats. It was a most remarkable achievement, as the wind was blowing almost a gale in the face of the horses on the home stretch.

Colorado E. reached the quarter in 32 seconds, the half in 1:08.4 and the three-quarters in 1:33.4. With the pole Colorado E. led all the way in the second heat.

William G. Bradley, of New York, raised a previous offer of $50,000 for the three-year-old to $75,000, but Mr. Estabrook would not sell if Colorado E., was to be driven by any other man in a race except Macey, and Bradley refused to accept these conditions.

BARGAIN-HUNTING

Advertisers Are The People Who Usually Get Bit.

The merchant who is always looking for something cheap in advertising, as with the customer in all other things, most often is the easy mark—gets bit. This is the universal experience, and strange to say, this is the class of business men who are always howling about expense and high cost of advertising.

The class of advertising that does not bring the customer is dear at any price. That which brings results, the people to your store, is cheap at what may seem at first a high price.

Advertising does not sell goods. It only brings the merchant and customer together. The salesman, the goods and the price must do the rest. It is therefore important that an ad tell the exact truth, and that the merchant sell just as he advertises.

Any cut-throat scheme will kill the effect of the best written and most extensively published ad ever printed.

It is the experience of all firms that have carefully and honestly tried it out, that a newspaper with a circulation that reaches the people is the best advertising medium ever tried. It goes direct to the customer, is read and reread, and has no implied scheme behind it. Money spent here is well spent, because it benefits the home merchant direct and helps build up a home enterprise upon which the home merchant daily relies to fight for him and the interests of his town and community.

The local newspaper is the first interest to which the merchant turns when he wants some pet free scheme advocated. He depends upon it to mould public sentiment in favor of the town and his interests. He depends upon it to help him in a thousand ways, yet too often he gives it no business, unless with an air of charity, or unless it is taken at a reduced rate, or a mere song, apparently forgetting that the newspaper has as much invested in him, and that its weekly expense is much more than his own.

It is not a question with him now it survives, so it survives for his pleasure and benefit. He patronizes it only at a bargain, and as if it was a public enterprise, with a pensioned or an endowment income, in some way mysteriously received.

It may not be intentional, but most business men seem to forget that the newspaper of their community reflects their own business spirit, and that if they want it in emergencies, and to be always advocating the best for the community, they must do business with it in a business way—as if they appreciated its effort and influence, and not by negotiating the same by their business methods with it.

The newspaper business is a pure business proposition, not a charitable one. Publishers want business, but not upon a charity basis. They give value received.—The National Weekly.

ROYAL "FUN"

King Alfonso and Duke of Westminster Turn in Fire Alarm.

King Alfonso's idea of sport was to turn in a midnight fire alarm at the Duke of Westminster's country house. His Majesty and His Grace got the brilliant idea that they would like to see how each member of the house party would behave in an emergency.

An unexpected complication arose, however, by reason of another practical joke which some intellectual guest had perpetrated in ignorance of the pleasant surprise the king and duke had prepared for their friends. This person had grabbed the handles on the inside of the doors of several women's bed-rooms.

At the dead of night the fire gong's brassy alarm echoed thru the vast house. Women in extreme negligence, men who had slipped into their trousers and jumpers by common impulse, hurried to the central hall. There awaited them the king and the duke, both of whom enjoyed the scene immensely. Through the chorus of laughter penetrated loud affrighted shrieks from above.

Half a dozen women could not open their doors and, certain they would be burned to death, were crying frantically for help and screaming hysterically. This rather dampened the practical jokers' spirits, for the thought came to them: "Had there been a fire what might have happened?"

Eastern Horses to Race at Lexington meeting.

That the fall race meeting at Lexington in September will be a success is the consensus of the opinion of Eastern horsemen according to Superintendent James P. Ross, of the Kentucky Association track, who recently returned from a trip to New York and Canada. Mr. Ross said that easterners were taking unusual interest in the meeting, and that among the horses to be seen here were the fastest that have raced this year on American and Canadian tracks.

Among the big stables that were granted stable room here recently were: T. P. Hayes, J. S. Ward, J. W. May, Henderson & Hogan, J. T. Ireland, Walter House, Fred Forsythe, W. G. Yanke, George Odom, Peter Wimmer and Turley Bros.

Do You Gamble?

Some people do by spending their time and labor and money by housing a crop of hay, oats and other farm produce, and keeping thousands of dollars invested in live stock housed in barns, and gamble with themselves that it will not burn. DO YOU?

Other people place their savings in a home and handsome furniture and then gamble on their luck that it will not burn. DO YOU?

Still others invest thousands in factories, mills, warehouses and other things subject to fire, and think they can, by careful watching, prevent a fire. DO YOU?

To all persons gambling with themselves against loss by fire, wind or tornado, we would suggest you give the matter careful consideration. Can you afford to take chances of losing part or all of your accumulations for a lifetime by gambling on your luck? We think not. See us before it is too late, and do not gamble with yourself.

Road Workers.

Eighty-one men and several teams responded to the call of the overseer to work the unmacadamized part of the Kendall's Spring road one day last week. RED CROSS STAMPS.

All Societies Will Continue in Great National Sale.

Arrangements for the sale of Red Cross Christmas Seals for 1910 were announced by bulletin issued by the National Association for the Study and Prevention of Tuberculosis and the American Red Cross. "A million for Tuberculosis" will be the slogan of the 1910 campaign.

Two features of the sale this year are unique and will bring considerable capital to the tuberculosis fighters. The American National Red Cross is to issue the stamps as in former years, but this organization will work in close cooperation with the National Association for the Study and Prevention of Tuberculosis, which body will share in the proceeds of the sales. The charge to local associations for the use of the national stamps has been reduced also from 20 per cent to 12 1/2 per cent, which will mean at least $50,000 more for tuberculosis work in all parts of the United States.

The stamps are to be designed as "Red Cross Seals" this year they are to be placed on the back of letters instead of on the front.

The National Conference of Tuberculosis Secretaries through its President, Mr. John A. Kingsbury of New York has issued a letter calling upon all state and local anti-tuberculosis associations to unite with the National Association for the Study and Prevention of Tuberculosis and the Red Cross Society in the sale of Christmas seals and the extermination of tuberculosis. Every effort will be made to discourage the use of local stamps and to encourage the distribution of the national stickers. It is expected that over 430 anti-tuberculosis associations and hundred of Red Cross societies in every state of the Union will unite in the sale of Christmas seals.

EVER WATCHFUL.

A Little Care Will Save Many Mt. Sterling Futures From Trouble.

Watch the kidney secretions. See that they have the amber hue of health. The discharges not excessive or infrequent; contain no "brick-dust like" sediment.

Doan's Kidney Pills will do this for you.

They watch the kidneys and cure them when they're sick.

Mrs. Hazzard Trimble, 4 Jamison St., Mt. Sterling, Ky., says: "I am pleased to say that Doan's Kidney Pills helped me greatly. I was in poor health for some time and was unable to stand or do my housework. I had pains in my left side, accompanied by a bearing down feeling through my kidneys. The passages of the kidney secretions were irregular and at times so scanty that there was an almost complete retention. I began to notice symptoms of dropsy in my limbs and hands and my condition was becoming worse when I began using Doan's Kidney Pills, procured at F. C. Duerson's Drug Store. I soon was greatly benefited and I felt like a different woman. Doan's Kidney Pills have convinced me of their effectiveness and consequently I am pleased to give them my endorsement."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Mahogany and Cedar in Ashanti. It is estimated that the gold coast and Ashanti could supply 60,843 logs of mahogany and cedar a year if the internal communication were better. With mechanical haulage, such as traction engines and light railways, the output could be increased to some 260,000 logs per annum without depleting the natural reserves.

MT. STERLING, KY.

A Woman's Sphere.

They talk about a woman's sphere as though it had a limit; There's not a place in earth or heaven, There's not a task to mankind given, There's not a blessing or a woe, There's not a yes or whispered no, There's not a life, or death or birth, That has a feather's worth, Without a woman in it. Women of the world are usually the queens of the home.

Let this light reflect around this revolving world; woman's real work is on character, her surest weapon is influence.

Every wife should be the mistress of her own home. But the grandmother and the mother-in-law should be the most welcome and most respected of all visitors.

A little kindly courtesy goes a good way in a busy household; and if in our home we use the same politeness we offer our guests we shall have no ill-fitting "company manners."

The unmarried woman works for necessity, for love of her dependent ones, for love of some beautiful or beneficent profession, for sweet mercy and charity to the ignorant, for horror of dependence upon those on whom she has no claim--seldom for business, ambition or material accumulation.

While a man admires womanly beauty, yet in married life he admires much more--a good square meal cooked by his loving spouse; and let a wife have little or no knowledge of the art of house-keeping, domestic economy, or is a poor cook, her husband rich as Croesus, her lot will be miserable.

Creation advanced from the simple to the more complex, from the low to the high. Man is later and higher than the fish of the sea, the birds of the air and the beasts of the field, and woman is later and higher than man--last and highest work of creative energy. In woman the dust of the earth reaches its ultimate possibilities. It is susceptible of no finer organization.

According to the syllabus of the board of education on temperance and hygiene, about two-thirds of the United Kingdom's total drink bill, or nearly $10,000,000 a week, is spent by the working classes.

NEWS FROM ADJOINING TOWNS.

A FAIR FOR CHARLISLE.

A Nicholas County Fair, to be held at Charlsie, will probably open its gates to the public next year. A movement to organize a stock company for this purpose is being backed by the Charlsie Commercial Club and already over twenty-five shares to the value of $100 each have been spoken for, and the promoters feel confident that all of the stock will soon be taken.

Options of three different tracts of ground for the fair grounds have been taken. It is said that racing meets will be held as a regulation track will be constructed. The project is said to have the backing of a number of the most prominent business men and the deal will probably be consummated at once.

LET'S SEWER CONTRACT AT WINCHESTER.

At a called meeting of the City Council the bid of the E. T. Lewis Company, of Nashville, Tenn., to put in a system of sanitary sewers for the city was accepted. The bid was $39,418.13 and the firm will take in payment 4 1/2 per cent bonds of the city at par. The total bond issue for the purpose, which was voted on last November, is $65,000 and the firm will pay for the remainder of the bond issue in cash.

AGED BOURBON MAN DIES.

Death claimed John, Morris, aged seventy years, known probably to every man, woman and child in Bourbon County. He came from Ireland and engaging in merchandising, spent the remainder of his life in the county. Some years ago he made the race for County Assessor, canvassing the county on foot and seeing personally every voter in the county. He was defeated by a small vote.

NEARLY BLEEDS TO DEATH.

While playing with a twenty-two-caliber rifle, Roy Ballard, of Paris, aged fourteen was shot in the right leg by the accidental discharge of the weapon. The bullet cut an artery, and the lad had a narrow escape from bleeding to death before medical aid reached him.

FAITHFUL HORSE IS RETIRED

Rooney of Bellevue Hospital, New York, Is Placed on Farm After Long Service.

New York.—Twenty years of faithful service as a Bellevue hospital ambulance horse have earned Rooney, the pride of the Bellevue stables, a pension and retirement on a farm in Long Island, where the clever horse knows deep and oats, corn and hay are served without stint. In the many years of service in Bellevue, Rooney has hauled more misery through the streets of New York and done more to alleviate it than any horse in this city.

There has not been a fire or an accident of importance in the Bellevue hospital district that Rooney has not attended. He hauled victims of the Hotel Tarrant building, Park Avenue hotel and the Hotel Royal fire, and time and again made record runs in response to appeals for aid. The hospital statistics show he responded to thousands of ambulance calls and never failed in his duty.

Before the old horse started for his new Long Island home the other day in charge of an agent of the S. P. C. A. David Collins, superintendent of the Bellevue stables, presented to him a new halter with his initial stamped on the straps. Old "Tom" Coughlin, the veteran ambulance driver in the hospital, had tears in his eyes when Rooney was led away.

Coughlin had taught the old horse many tricks. One was to cross his legs and stand like a corner runner. Another was to tip his driver's hat in response to greetings by women. Rooney not only would remove Coughlin's hat and salute the women with it, but after the salute, he would replace it carefully on the head of his driver and friend.

No one could insult Rooney and get away with it. The horse would remember the insult for months and retaliate at the first opportunity. Among the stable men he had the reputation of being able to kick two ways at once. He began to fall a year ago and since then has been leading an easy life in Bellevue.

NEW YORK TO PHONE LONDON

Great Results Are Expected From New Submarine Cable Laid in English Channel.

London.—Telephone communication between London and New York will be looked for before long if a new submarine cable recently laid across the English channel by the British post office answers expectations.

The cable, which extends from Dover to Cape Gris Nez, is the first of its kind laid in tidal waters. The tests so far made have given satisfactory results.

The efficiency of the new cable for telephone communication has been increased more than three times by the insertion of loading coils in the cable at intervals of one knot. The coils reduce the distortion of the current impulses which correspond to the spoken sounds, and so render the speech more distinct.

The new cross-channel cable will be opened for public use between London and Paris as soon as the French government has completed the connecting land lines.

The cable has been laid partly for purposes of experiment, the object being to determine the limits of possible improvement by the use of the new type, with a view to its application to communication between places which have hitherto been beyond telephone range.

The tests made led to the belief that it will revolutionize telephone communication between England and the continent of Europe, and as improvements are effected, will bring spoken communication between London and New York within the bounds of possibility.

At present the only continental country besides France in telephone communication with England is Belgium, but experiments in conversation between London and Amsterdam, Berlin and other continental cities are to be made with the new cable, and in view of the success of the tests already made, such extensions of the service are confidently expected.

College Girl, Urged by Remorse, Makes Penance After Years to Friend She Robbed.

Chicago.—Whether the ancient Greeks intentionally meant to throw a slight upon the lawless sect by depicting their cynical offspring, Mr. Diogenes, as searching for an honest man, is unknown. Should a similar search be instituted at the present time, Miss Rhea Tedesch, a former coed of Cincinnati university, now visiting her sister, Mrs. Paul H. Phillips, of this city, could give valuable assistance.

Long ago," asserts Miss Tedesch, "I suffered the loss of a purse containing three dollars and some change. Years passed and blotted its loss from my mind. Then, recently, I received a letter from home saying I was the recipient of $300 from an unknown source.

Another letter followed, from which I learn that a friend of a friend was the person who had taken the money years ago. She says that her parents and ancestors were honest Puritans and that remorse has worked havoc with her. She hopes that now, by discharging a penance, she will find relief from the purgatories of an evil regretted."

THE NEWARK CASE.

On the night of July 8, last, it will be remembered that Carroll Etherington, a young white man, charged with murder, was taken by a mob from the jail of Newark, Ohio, and hanged.

Governor Harmon, who never fails to see and do his duty, went after the offenders in such a vigorous manner, as to cause the grand jury of Licking county to return nearly sixty indictments.

These occurrences are only possible where inefficient and unworthy men are in office, as shown by the following paragraphs of the grand jury's report:

"Our investigation discloses:

"That a lawless mob ran riot throughout the day on the public streets, engaging in assaults upon citizens, all of which was done without hindrance or effort at hindrance upon the part of the Sheriff or the Mayor and the Chief of Police.

"That at a time when the riot was culminating in an attack upon the jail the Sheriff cowardly deserted his post and left the jail and its inmates unprotected.

"That the Mayor, who was present, and had personal knowledge that the mob was attacking the jail, deliberately left the scene of the riot and went to his home and to bed.

"That the Chief of Police, together with the police force, put forth no attempt to prevent the outrage.

"That after the Chief had visited the jail and saw the attacks no orders or instructions were given by him to the eight or ten policemen then present to disperse the mob, but, on the contrary, he left the jail yard and, while the iron doors of the jail were being battered down, and while the man Etherington was being taken from the jail and hanged at the corner of the Courthouse square, this man, wearing the uniform of Chief of Police, was then at a nearby grocery and saloon in company with others engaged in a social game of cards."

The next step is for the petit jurors to do their duty, and if they do, it will be a long time before Newark is again similarly disgraced.

ROOSEVELT'S CONSISTENCY.

Newspapers everywhere are commenting on the new platform enunciated by our former President. Among other reforms, he now advocates personal responsibility upon the part of officials of corporations, for violations of the law and a law forbidding corporations from making campaign contributions. Like many practical politicians, (and he is certainly that, if anything), he does not "practice" what he preaches." Not many years ago, Judson Harmon, of Ohio, was about to fasten a violation of the anti-rebate law, upon Paul Morton, then a member of Roosevelt's Cabinet. Harmon proceeded upon the announced theory that "guilt is personal." Teddy did not then see it that way and ordered the prosecution of Morton discontinued. That his political success in the past has been due to the free use of enormous corruption funds, no one doubts for a moment and the paramount thought now is, can even Teddy "Fool all the people all the time?"

Tell your troubles to the "Graunde Inquest."

Editor of Winchester News Injured.

While out driving last Thursday afternoon, in Clark county, near the residence of the late Squire John Evans, on the Peety Run pike, Mr. W. A. Beatty, editor of the Winchester News, was thrown from a buggy and had his left arm broken.

They had stopped to water their horse when Mr. William French, of Clark county, who was with Mr. Beatty, discovered that the horse would not drink until he had removed the bridle. As soon as this was done the horse began to run and Mr. Beatty was helpless. Mr. Beatty was thrown from the buggy and dragged for some distance. The buggy was completely destroyed.

He was removed to the St. Joseph Hospital in Lexington, where he is reported to be rapidly improving.

Makes Strong Assertion.

State Senator Byron, in a speech to the tobacco growers of Marion county, asserted that an attempt had been made to bribe President LeBus, of the Burley Tobacco LeBus, to sell the tobacco pool of 1909 at a certain price and also for LeBus to sever his connection with the society after the sale. The amount of the bribe was said to have been $250,000, but Senator Byron declined to give the name of the man who offered the bribe.

Attractive Simplicity in Window Decoration.

Changes in the methods of dressing show windows are constantly taking place, but most of these changes come about so gradually that we sometimes fail to see where we are being led. It is the very slowness with which the methods change that sometimes deceives us and leads us astray. We accept fashions that have come to us through gradual evolution because each succeeding change is but a variation of something to which we have already become accustomed, whereas, if all the intermediate steps were eliminated, and the style were presented as something entirely new, we would see it in an entirely different light.

Some ten or twelve years ago window dressing was something very different from what it is today, says Albert A. Koester, in MERCHANT'S RECORD. At all times there were comparatively few high-class floral decorations to be had and the window dresser had to rely largely upon his own ingenuity and cleverness to design and make everything that he used in his windows. Some one found that cheesecloth could be puffed easily and with good effect, and every-where the discovery with joy and proceeded to fill his windows with cotton cheesecloth in all the variegated colors of a June flower garden. The use of cheesecloth grew gradually until it was used almost universally. It was the main feature of all sorts of displays in big and little stores. After having been worked to death, cheesecloth was discarded and is now seen no more.

The elaborate and heavy scrolls and fancy framework of a few years ago have also passed away, as have the complicated mechanical butterflies, stars and other old-style motion windows. Yet each one of these was considered good in its day and the men who devised them were clever trimmers. There can be no doubt that some of the old-fashioned windows attracted great crowds, but the merchant of to-day appraises the value of a crowd in front of his windows in proportion to the sales that are made.

In the opinion of the writer there is a gradual growing tendency toward the overelaboration of window displays. The decorative features are too involved and too ornate to best serve the purpose for which they are intended. Backgrounds are made with such elaborate details that whatever merchandise may be shown is completely overshadowed. The interest of the beholder is centered upon the window dresser's work rather than upon the goods that are to be sold. There is another criticism that may be made against the overelaborate background in a good many cases, and that is, the subject chosen for reproduction is not suitable for the comparatively limited nofines of the show window. This applies particularly to some of the architectural schemes of decoration that are now so popular. Columns and figures that might serve admirably as embellishments for the front of some magnificent building do not always lend themselves to the adornment of a show window with equal attractiveness. There need always be a sympathy between the background and the merchandise that is to be shown in front of it.

Another object to the heavy background is that it usually takes up more room than it should. It also costs more than is necessary and requires too much time in the preparation. It is not the intention of the writer to condemn all elaborate window settings. There are some occasions when it is desirable to use the windows as general advertisements of the store rather than to sell goods. In such times the merchandise is but a detail of the general scheme of decoration. These occasions, however, are rare. And another thing that the trimmer in the average store should consider is that settings which might appear appropriate for some of the immense city department stores would appear ridiculous when attempted with cheap materials in a smaller window. Much depends upon the store.

The writers opinion of an ideal window for all every-day occasions is one that has a neat background, neutral in design and color with some slight decorative effects to take away its bareness and give it a little color and life. To this add some dainty and graceful feature in the form of a small stand or table of unusual design, decorated with flowers, plants and ribbons gracefully arranged. Take this sort of a simple setting and add to it ready-to-wear merchandise handled with a careful regard for color and arrangement and the window will sell far more goods than one with a much more elaborate and fussy arrangement.

A window dresser who has some skill with tools can easily design stands that are simple in construction and so graceful in form that they will give artistic character to any window in which they may be used. It is better to adhere to straight lines rather than attempt elaborate curves. For special occasions, when something a little out of the ordinary is wanted, one of these art stands may be used with a light background setting. The letter, however, should invariably be in the same style and character as the stand. For example with Colonial style stands use simple Colonial setting for background. The background must be of light construction and simple and not extend clear across the back. That gives to much symmetry. Let it stand a little farther on one side than the other, with a break in the middle. If columns are used, they may be made in the same manner as the stand. Try to avoid the conventional lattice. It has been used so much that it is becoming somewhat tiresome. Another to avoid is the straight white picket fence. When it was first used, this sort of a fence was quite a novelty, but it has now been used thousands of times and consequently has lost much of its attractiveness.

If the trimmer will use a little thought and invention in placing the stand, he can work out some unusually attractive settings that will be found particularly effective in displaying ready-to-wear goods, millinery, etc. For summer goods, light and airy garden-like effects that are in keeping with summer wear should be employed. Moss green tarlatan hung behind the background setting will give it a better perspective and atmosphere.

The stands should be substantially made, so that they can be used on various occasions, and should be of different styles, covered with white enamel carefully applied. The foliage and flowers can be adapted to the style of goods displayed, the best effects being secured with artificial flowers and leaves, which are now made in such perfection that they rival nature in appearance, and they do not fade or require attention. Ribbons may also be used in good effect in connection with the stands.

Most window decorations are declined to use to much rather than too little, and the tendency of the times is toward simple but striking effects by the use of few articles tastefully displayed. One of the most attractive windows in New York this week contains only two or three light-colored coats against a background of red with a few flowers to heighten the effect. Such simple displays will attract more attention than elaborate attempts at the impossible. The average window is too small for anything but the simplest arrangement of two or three articles.

The point in all window display is to attract attention to the article you wish to sell, and not to make an exhibition of the mechanical skill of the window trimmer.

USES VARNISH FOR PUDDING

"Handy" Man Dabs Front Door With Sirup and Wife Puts Glossy Fluid in Pastry.

Mr. Brewster thought his front door looked as though a coat of varnish would do it no harm, and resolved to do it himself, to save the expense of a painter.

Finding an old "golden sirup" tin in the yard, he went off to the shop for some "best oak varnish." He placed it in the pantry for the night, and was up early next morning, and by half-past twelve had got the door finished.

"I don't like it, now it's done," he said to his wife.

"It's had varnish," replied she. "He's sold you the wrong sort of stuff."

He thought so, too, and went back to the shop, taking what was left with him.

"This is funny varnish you sold me," said he. "It's dull, sticky stuff." After examining it, the shopman said: "This is not what I sold you. This is sirup."

It then dawned on him that he had got hold of the wrong tin, and he went back home to explain to his wife, who at once said: "Good gracious, James! And I've ruined the pudding for another trifling!" Then, after a moment's pause, "You'll dine today on roast mutton and varnish pudding!"

TOO LATE.

Hiram Brown—Well, 'gosh! Them bunco fellows in Na York didn't get my money this time.

Squire Haystack—I want ter know why.

Hiram Brown—Because the colored porter on the sleeper got ahead of 'em.

To a Certain Sweet Extent.

"Do you wholly trust me, darling?" murmured the young man to the fair creature who was sitting beside him on the front seat of the trolley car.

"I do to a certain extent," she responded after a little hitch of hesitation.

"What extent?" he asked, anxiously.

"Why," she explained, "I would trust you the extent of not being afraid of there being any poison in a box of candy you might send me by mail."

Own Up Now.

Eleanor, aged six, had been going to school only a few weeks. She had learned to raise her hand if she wanted anything. One day she put this effect when she was sent to the chicken house to get some eggs.

Just as she reached the chicken house door her mother heard her say: "All you chickens that have laid an egg, raise your hands."—The Delinea-

Brute.

With almost girlish pride she displayed the crullers she had cooked for him with her own little hands.

"How do you like them?" she ventured at last.

"Well," he chuckled, trying to extract his teeth from one. "It would have been better if you had made them very much larger. Then I could have used them as automobile tires."

A Morning Spat.

She (angrily)—I can stand this no longer; you're utterly unbearable, and I'm going back to mother this very day!

He (coolly)—Very well, that arrangement will suit me exactly; I'll see you this evening. I met your mother yesterday and she invited me to take supper with her tonight.

As Compared.

"Boarding house buckwheat cakes," said the thoughtful thinker, "remind me of a baseball game."

"How's that?" queried the information seeker.

"The batter doesn't always make a hit," explained the t. t.

An Obstruction.

Moneybags—Young man, I started as a clerk on 15 shillings a week, and today I own my own business.

Hardup—I know, sir. But they have cash registers in all the shops now.—Comic Cuts.

The Artless Query.

"Yes," said the poultry fancier, "these chickens are too expensive to eat."

"Indeed!" rejoined the young lady from the city. "Then why are you feeding them?"

In Other Words.

"The situation was funny enough to make a horse laugh," said the Chicago girl.

"Indeed!" exclaimed the Boston maid. "I never witnessed an equine cachinnation."

Political Creed of Roosevelt.

The former President declared himself last week at Osawatimie, Kas., in favor of these principles:

First—Elimination of special interests from politics.

Second—Complete and effective publicity of corporation affairs.

Third—Passage of laws prohibiting the use of corporate funds directly or indirectly for political purposes.

Fourth—Government supervision of the capitalization, not only of public service corporations, but of all corporations doing an interstate business.

Fifth—Personal responsibility of officers and directors of corporations that break the law.

Sixth—Increase in the power of the Federal Bureau of Corporations and the Interstate Commerce Commission to control the commission's industry more effectively.

Seventh—Revision of the tariff, one schedule at a time, on the basis of information furnished by an expert tariff commission.

Eighth—Graduated income tax and graduated inheritance tax.

Ninth—Readjustment of the country's financial system in such a way as to prevent repetition of periodical financial panics.

Tenth—Maintenance of an efficient army and a navy large enough to insure for the nation the respect of other nations as a guarantee of peace.

Eleventh—Use of national resources for the benefit of all the people.

Twelfth—Extension of the work of the Department of Agriculture of the National and State Governments and of agricultural colleges and experiment stations so as to take in all phases of life on the farm.

Thirteenth—Regulation of the terms and conditions of labor by means of comprehensive workmen's compensation acts; State and National laws to regulate child labor and the work of women; enforcement of better sanitary conditions for workers and extension of the use of safety appliances in industry and commerce, both in and between the States.

Fourteenth—Direct primaries associated with corrupt practices acts.

Fifteenth—Clear division of authority between the National and various State Governments.

Sixteenth—Publicity of campaign contributions, not only after election, but before election, as well.

Seventeenth—Prompt removal of unfaithful and incompetent public servants.

Eighteenth—Provisions against the performance of any service for interstate corporations by national officers.

STOOPS

The continued wet weather is getting farmers in bad.

There is still a large amount of tobacco to top.

Mrs. Thomas Warner has about recovered from her illness.

Blackbirds and crows are badly damaging corn. Seems like every thing has turned pest this year.

R. E. Tipton is still nursing his injured wrist and shoulder.

Born, August 26, to Andy Thompson and wife, a daughter.

Mrs. E. L. Fasset visited relatives near Bethel Thursday.

Chris Cassidy is working with a force of carpenters at Sideview.

Heaton & Foley is the name of the new meat firm at Judy.

On Aug. 29, Clall Foley, Jr., son of John Foley, and Miss Leona Tinsler, of the Flat Creek neighborhood, eloped to Ironton, Ohio, and were married. They were accompanied by George Foley, of this place.

Born, Aug. 28, to the wife of George Parks, a daughter.

Henry Morgan and sister, Miss Annie, of Mt. Sterling, came Saturday to visit their aunt, Mrs. Thomas Warner.

The heavy rains have caused early tobacco to rot badly, but have sure redeemed late crops.

Friday night Dr. R. E. May was making a call on the Tipton & Graves pike, he drove into Hinkston, thinking it was fordable. The water was so high and swift that the horse could not swim out with the buggy. So they all floated down stream till they hung up on a wafer gap. The horse got its foot fastened and could not move, but the doctor managed to reach the shore, and went for help. Some parties swam out and cut the horse loose from the buggy and freed its foot, and it swam till it landed on an island, and could not be gotten off till Saturday morning. No serious damage was done, though Dr. May and the horse sure had a narrow escape.

Born, Saturday, Sept. 3, to J. H. Alexander and wife, of Springfield, a fine son.

L. H. Fasset sold 6 600-pound heifers to Tios, Robertson at 4c.

S. F. Deal and wife visited the family of Tios, McClain in Bourbon county Sunday.

H. C. Ficklin, wife and daughter, Della R., visited the family of Ed Toy at Sideview Sunday.

All news items sent us are certainly appreciated. It's no easy thing writing for newspapers when there is nothing to write about, besides a newspaper full of nothing doesn't attract much attention.

Mrs. Amanda Clay and daughters entertained delightfully last week at their hospitable home the following house party: D. H. James, wife and daughters, Misses Jennie, Sarah and Annie T., and son, Robert L.; Mesdames J. H. Phelps, Anna Bailey, Martha Scott, and Miss Agnes Hannah, of Lexington; Miss Mattie Belle Combs, of Burgin, Ky.; Mrs. F. H. Reppert and daughter, Mattie Berry, of Silvertown, O.; Mrs. Jno. G. James and son, David, of New York City; Mrs. Roda Phelps, of Sharpsburg; Mrs. Sallie Berry and W. T. Phelps, of this county.

PLUM LICK.

J. B. Clark came very near losing his fine - young jack last week.

Tobacco buyer Vinson, of Jackstown, was here last week offering the boys from 14c to 16c for their tobacco.

Dick Boardman's colt took the premium at the colt show at the Levee. There were 14 colts shown.

E. W. Farris bought 10 65-lb. shoats from J. K. Todd at 9c.

Millard Wade, who was operated on in Louisville for appendicitis, has returned home wonderfully improved.

John McDaniel sold 40 1200-lb. cattle to J. E. Boardman at 57c.

Stanley Gillaspie has been called on to make a speech at Bunkers Hill in the interest of pooling to tobacco. Stanley is a good talker.

Roger Crouch has been offered 15c for his tobacco by young Albert Anderson.

JEFFERSONVILLE.

Late corn and tobacco are doing fine, owing to the good fall rain.

R. T. Richardson sold 40 good heifers to Robert Myers, of Salt Lick, for 4c.

The general feeling of this place is for better roads and better morals, which make a better country.

The people of this place desire to thank Esq. Quisenberry for the interest he has shown in being ready to help put an end to the disturbing of the peace by unruly people. We suggest that we have more reports through the Advocate. Let us hear from other neighborhoods.

Claude May has returned from Amvix Springs, where he has been for his health. Glad to report he is much better.

Ellis Salzer left Monday for Richmond, where he expects to go to school.

The camp meeting now in progress was largely attended Sunday by people from different parts of the county. Everybody invited next Sunday.

Wonderful Flight is Made By Glenn Curtiss.

Glenn H. Curtiss, of Hammondsport, N. Y., established a new record for over-water flights by traveling over Lake Erie from Euclid Beach to Cedar Point, O., approximately sixty miles. The announced time consumed in the passage was one hour and nineteen minutes. His average time was forty-five miles an hour, although a stretch of twenty miles was covered at a rate of a mile a minute.

Things Get Better.

In spite of all the confusions and thwartings of life, the habits and resiliences and the counterstrokes of fate, it is manifest that, in the long run, human life becomes broader than it was, gentler than it was, finer and deeper. One the whole—and now days almost steadily—things get better. This is a secular amelioration of life, and it is brought about by good will working through the efforts of men.—H. G. Wells.

Side-Stepping a Sneeze.

Probably everybody has experienced the displeasure, if not actual pain, which comes from missing a sneeze. There is an easy way out of this if one happens to be out of doors at the time and the weather is clear. Just glance at the sun. There is something about the brightness of it that supplies the missing irritation, or whatever it is that is needed, and nine times out of ten if the sneeze has not got too far away it will come back.

Exercise.

The value of daily exercise is to bring the less used organs into play, that they may the better sustain the organs which to us individually appear more important.

Country Work for "Worry."

Dr. A. T. Schofield has written a book on nervousness, in which he advises those who want a cure for the modern disease of "worry" to go out into the country and work there.

The Sense of Smell.

It is not in the nostril that the sense of smell lies, but in the upper third of the nose. There the red lining of the nostril changes into brown, and becomes much more sensitive.

Faith and Enthusiasm.

It is faith in something and enthusiasm for something that makes life worth looking at.—Oliver Wendell Holmes.
